TOURING CAPE TOWN

LION'S HEAD HIKE

An iconic Cape Town peak, Lion's Head is one of the city's most popular hiking destinations. Spend a moderately challenging, supremely scenic two hours following the trail that loops from Kloof Nek up to the summit at 670 metres (2,195 feet) and down again. Spectacular views over the city and Atlantic Ocean await – with famed Robben Island visible in the distance on a clear day. Prime hiking times: early morning, early evening, and special group hikes during the full moon.

Good to know Duration: 2 hours + • suitable for 12 years +
• recommended with Craft Your Own Journey and City Full of Culture • the hike includes a scramble up two sets of short ladders bolted to the rock face
